Target Market Determination

1. Product Disclosure Statement to which this TMD applies

This Target Market Determination (TMD) applies to the Aon Vertex Journey Accident Insurance Policy (Product) issued and underwritten by Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, Australia Branch (ABN 61 086 083 605; AFSL No. 530842 (for claims handling and settling services only)) a company incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts USA (the liability of members is limited) (referred to as Liberty, we, us or our in this document) and referred to in the following Product Disclosure Statement (PDS):

- Journey Accident Insurance Vertex PDS & Policy Wording 2110, available from the Aon broker who issued the Product to you

2. Date from which this TMD is effective

28 March 2026 (effective date)

3. About this TMD

The purpose of this TMD is to describe:

- the type of consumer (retail consumer) the Product is designed for;
- how it is distributed so it reaches retail consumers in the target market; and
- the Product review process, and reporting and monitoring arrangements, to ensure the Product remains relevant and is not being acquired outside the target market.

This TMD has been prepared in accordance with Part 7.8A of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) and ASIC Regulatory Guide 274.

It is not intended to be a summary of the Product's features, terms and conditions and is not intended to convey financial product advice. Retail consumers should refer to the PDS and any supplementary documents which outline the relevant terms and conditions of the Product when making a decision about this Product.

4. Class of retail consumers that fall within the target market

The Product has been designed for businesses, entities, organisations and facilities who wish to provide their Covered Person (as defined in the PDS) with journey accident insurance protection.

The likely financial situation of the business, entity, organisation or facility will enable them to pay the premium for the Product, pay any excess that applies to a claim and bear any amounts for loss, damage or liability that are not covered by the Product.

Target Market Determination

5. Class of retail consumers who do not fall within the target market

The Product's target market does not include businesses, entities, organisations and facilities whose directors, employees, contractors and members (as applicable):

- require cover that is not Journey related;
- fly in an aircraft or aerial device other than as a passenger in an aircraft licensed to carry passengers;
- exceed the age limits noted in the Age Limitation exclusion set out in the PDS applicable to the entire Product; or
- train for or participate in Professional Sport (as defined in the PDS) of any kind if income from the sport exceeds more than 15% of total income.

Additionally, the Product may be inappropriate for consumers who will otherwise derive lesser benefits, such as consumers who:

- may be unemployed, or
- are already insured by another insurance policy covering substantially the same risks, but only to the extent both policies cover the same events and risks.

In the event of a claim for weekly benefits, retail consumers may also derive a lesser benefit under the Product if they are employed but earn a significant portion of their gross weekly income from salary through overtime payments, commissions, bonuses and allowances at the time of bodily injury, sickness or death.

The Product's target market does not include businesses, entities, organisations and facilities that are unable to pay the excess when required, or to financially contribute where their claim is for an amount which is greater than the aggregate limits or sub-limits.

6. Product description and key attributes

The following section sets out the key eligibility requirements and attributes of the Product.

The Product provides dedicated assistance to businesses, entities, organisations and facilities whose Covered Persons were on a Journey, including in connection with:

- Loss of income due to temporary total or temporary partial disablement;
- Surgical Benefits if undergoing surgery overseas due to a bodily injury;
- Coma benefit;
- Carjacking Incidents;
- Dental Injury Benefits;
- Home help or Student tutorial benefits;
- Home or Car modification expenses
- Incurring of Chauffeur Services expenses; and
- a Bed Care Benefit.

Target Market Determination

7. Likely objectives, financial situation and needs of retail consumers in the target market

Retail consumers in the target market for the Product will be businesses, entities, organisations and facilities that likely want and need to manage financial risks associated with the bodily injury, sickness or accidental death of their directors, employees, contractors and members.

Retail consumers in the target market will therefore have the likely objective of transferring a significant proportion of that financial risk through insurance protection of the type provided by this Product.

Retail consumers in the target market will have a likely financial situation that enables them to pay the premiums for the Product, pay any excess that applies to a claim and financially contribute to any amounts for loss, damage or liability that are not covered by the Product.

8. Consistency between target market and the Product

The Product is likely to be consistent with the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the class of retail consumers in the target market. This determination of consistency is based on an analysis of the key terms, features and attributes of the Product and our view that these are consistent with the identified class of retail consumers.

9. How the Product is to be distributed

Distribution channels

The Product is only distributed through insurance brokers with appropriate authorisation levels and licensing approvals, including in respect of the provision of financial product advice. Through such channels, the retail consumer must meet appropriate eligibility requirements, which include the elements of the target market set out in section 4 above. The insurance brokers are required to submit application forms completed by or on behalf of their retail consumer clients which include relevant eligibility questions. The Product is only issued to retail consumers where the answers to the eligibility questions establish that they fall within the target market.

Distribution conditions

This Product will only be distributed under the following circumstances: to businesses, entities, organisations and facilities that meet eligibility requirements.

Adequacy of distribution conditions and restrictions

Liberty is confident that the distribution conditions and restrictions will make it likely that retail consumers who purchase the Product are in the class of retail consumers who fall within the target market. This is because those conditions and restrictions provide for offers and sales only to be made to retail consumers who have confirmed their eligibility, including with respect to elements of the target market set out in section 4 above, and that Liberty has adequate arrangements in place with appropriately authorised insurance brokers to oversee that that occurs in practice.

12. The meaning of certain words

Significant dealing

The term 'Significant dealing' is not defined in the Corporations Act. However, in RG 274, ASIC articulate a list of non- exhaustive factors that it expects will be relevant for issuers when determining whether a Significant dealing has occurred, including:

- (a) the proportion of consumers who acquire the product who are not in the target market;
- (b) the actual or potential harm to consumers acquiring the product who are not in the target market, and
- (c) the nature and extent of the inconsistency of distribution with the TMD.

Target market refers to the class of retail consumers for whom this product has been designed.
